All Pfitzer's cannas are nice for borders tubs or pot plants as well as for planting any where in the garden, they multiply nicely but are not winter hardy out of doors.

PLANTING: Set bulbs 2 to 3 inches deep, 12 to 18 inches apart in good loose soil, after all danger of ground freeze has passed.

STORING: - In a warm dry climate they can be left in the ground in the winter by adding 2 or 3 inches of dry soil on top of the bulbs in the late fall.

In a wet climate lift the bulbs from the beds in clumps after the first frost or freeze and cover with sawdust in a warm place where the temperature never goes below 40 degrees.
